We Take Pride in Important Things...

Our Country

Our Student Body

Students find time to chat between classes.

We Support the Things We're

Traditions, Renovations,

Having a conference during the Mount Vernon-Burlington game are Coach Hake and senior Mike Shumway.

Proud Of...

Classrooms, Sports

Freshmen in Mr. Beasley's English classes study participle procedure.

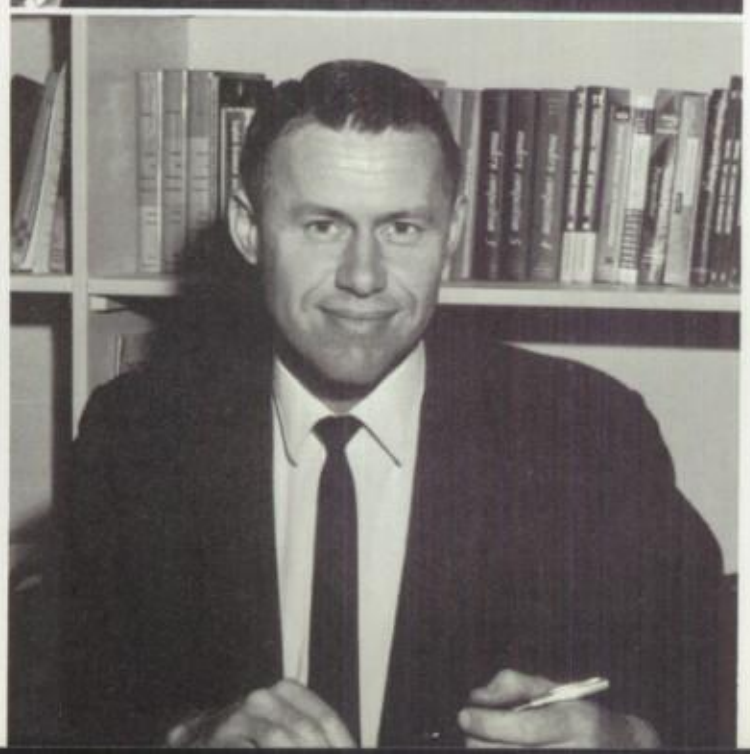
With dedicated teachers like Mr. Quall, history can be fun.

Progressive Faculty

The faculty lounge is a favorite coffee spot for Mr. Reiman, practice teacher Miss Pearce, Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Tilley.

Enthusiastic



Students, faculty and administrators at Mount Vernon High School became accustomed to sounds of workmen throughout the year as the main building was renovated. To give the old building a new look the brick was cleaned and remortared, the rooms and halls painted and new doors installed. Students were confused for a time, but they soon became adjusted to the new arrangement. In addition, the auditorium received badly needed repairs.

An experienced school administrator, Wendell T. Phipps, above right, is responsible for the entire public school system of Mount Vernon, Conway and Skagit Valley College.

Guiding students and faculty of MVHS is William E. Gurney, principal, above left. His capability for leadership, friendliness, and his eagerness to improve the school, keep everything running smoothly.

Managing the athletic program in Mount Vernon is Vice Principal and Athletic Director Dave E. Duvall, top left. His office is the center for affairs of health, P.E. and athletics.

The new vice-principal this year is Patrick Hayden, who counsels senior students and serves as chairman of the English department.

Students at MVHS appreciate Mrs. Alma Murray's warmth and understanding as she guides them in her role as counselor. She is pictured on the opposite page, top.

Next to her, advising students about their various problems is Leo G. Hake. His ability to work with young people is also a great help in his function as head football coach.

Administrators Make Successful Changes

Mr. Elmer Berg
Mr. W. J. Deierlein Jr.
Mr. Earl Hanson
Mrs. Marian F. Kenney
Mrs. Gladys Larson
Mr. Roger Morrison
Mr. Hoff Tronsdal
Mr. Rex Wilson
Dr. Harry Worley

Elected by the community, the members of the school board, who are directed by Chairman Rex Wilson, attempt to maintain and improve the high degree of excellence found in the MVHS system. They have diversified occupations from farming to finance which keep them busy, but they still are able to meet regularly every third week and to donate a great deal of time to this important educational position.

Science and

Mr. Ravnik's math class concentrates on a test.

An avid hiker and advisor for the Red Cross program, Richard Dixon is very popular with all his students. Having received his education from WWSC, Mr. Dixon teaches world geography and the rapidly growing, fascinating earth science classes.

Seeing to it that the public address system is working correctly at all of Mount Vernon High School functions is Joseph Norlie, a physics and algebra teacher. Graduating from Luther College in Iowa with a BA degree and doing graduate work at the University of Chicago and the UW, Mr. Norlie also takes a personal interest in music.

Earning his BA degree from UPS and later his MS from Oregon State university, Roger Ringstad directs student activities as well as teaching biology. An experienced assistant football coach, Mr. Ringstad also pursues his personal interests in woodworking and reading.

A fan of just about every kind of outdoor sporting activity, including hunting, fishing, golfing, swimming, camping, farming, and skating, WWSC graduate Donald Sundean is noted for his lively humor and interesting subject matter in his biology classes.

With a BA degree from the UW, chemistry teacher Malcolm Thomson serves helpfully in the advisory position of senior counselor. His extra-curricular interests and time are taken up with the raising of pure-bred cattle, a fascinating hobby, according to Mr. Thomson.

A ski patrol member at Mount Baker, the active Bill DeHon has also undertaken the tremendous task of building his own home. An alumni of nearby WWSC with a BA degree, Mr. DeHon teaches informative electronics and math classes.

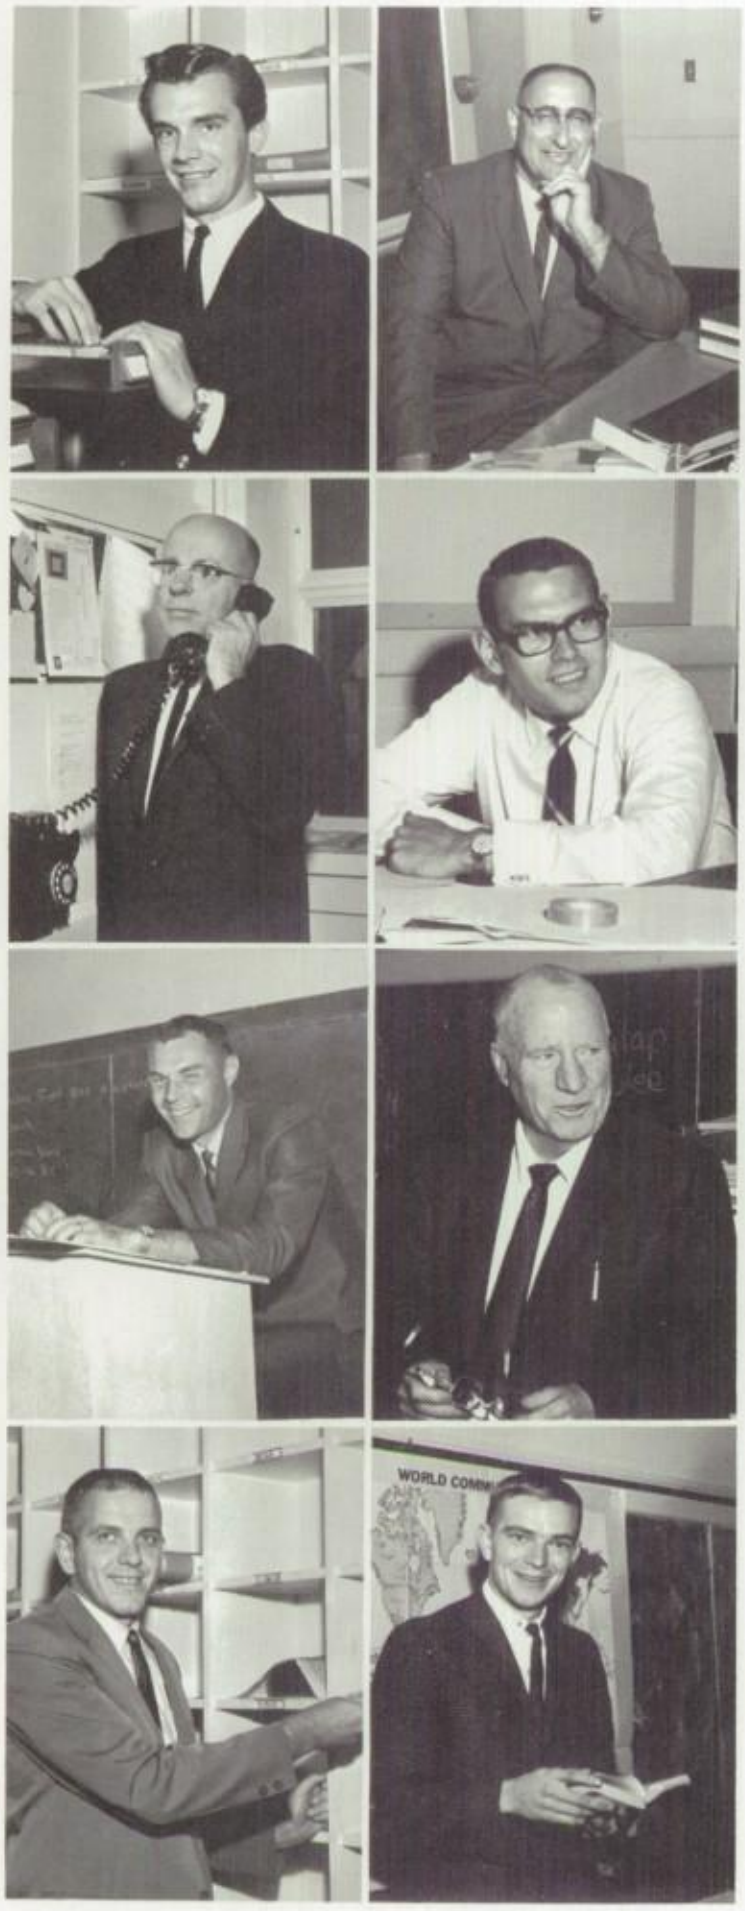
A collector of Model A Fords and an enthusiastic golfer, is the easy-going Allen Evans. Educated at WWSC and holding a BA degree in education, Mr. Evans conducts a number of varied math courses and also serves as a dedicated baseball and frosh football coach.

An outdoor enthusiast, Paul Reiman advises the Honor Society as well as teaching math classes. Attending PLU and graduating with a BA in education, Mr. Reiman is instrumental in the success of Mount Vernon High's top level wrestling teams.

Having earned a BA degree from WWSC, A. L. Ravnik is known for his ability to communicate math to his students in a manner which results in their interest and enjoyment. He is also interested in the student as a person, and is always willing to help him whether his problem is mathematical or psychological.

Moving up from grade school teaching and encountering many of his former students in high school, is the new math teacher, Fred Sizelove. A skillful and successful fisherman, Mr. Sizelove received his math degree from WWSC.

Art, Languages, Social



Among the new teachers at Mount Vernon High this year is Russell Christenson, top row, who graduated from WWSC. Teaching sociology and world geography, he also serves as advisor for the Poster Playboys.

Golf, both playing and coaching, is the main extra-curricular interest of Joe R. Day, who teaches world and American history at MVHS. He has earned a BS from Northwestern Oklahoma State College and a MA from the University of Oklahoma.

A variety of subjects which include psychology, sociology, humanities and orchestra fill Charles Easton's teaching schedule. Mr. Easton, who has a BA degree from UW relaxes reading, hiking and listening to records.

Proper French pronunciation is drilled into Mrs. Brooke's French students.

A former MVHS student, Ben Edlund gives his senior students an understanding of current events combined with a touch of humor, in both civics and Northwest history classes. Mr. Edlund, tennis coach, rates "enjoying life" as his top extra-curricular activity.

Coaching freshman wrestling, and assisting with football and baseball, Robert LeBeau calls upon his teaching learned at WWSC. His own interest in reading makes his geography and world history classes interesting and informative.

Keeping up an active interest in government, Joseph Murphy urges his senior civics students to take an active part in classroom discussion. Cross country and track coach, Mr. Murphy graduated from UW.

By relating his courses in American and world history to current news, David Quall gives his students an understanding of the world today. Head coach of MVHS basketball, he graduated from Seattle Pacific College.

Teaching world history is Peter Slayer. Contributing to the success of MVHS teams as assistant basketball and baseball coach, Mr. Slayer likes to hunt, read and play the guitar.

Studies Create Interest

As French teacher at Mount Vernon High School, Mrs. Ila Brooke stresses a combination of an understanding of the French culture and a comprehensive study of the French language. A graduate of the University of British Columbia, she spends her spare time enjoying gardening, sewing and with music.

Nathaniel Dickinson, whose BA degree was obtained from the University of Washington, has a variety of lessons to prepare each day in his role as German, creative writing and humanities teacher.

Painting scenes in the picturesque Skagit area is the favorite pastime of Mount Vernon High's art teacher, Gordon Fisher. A graduate of the University of Washington, Mr. Fisher acts as advisor to the Art club. He can always be counted on to give a helping hand when colorful art work is needed.

As the Spanish instructor and advisor for the Spanish Club, Vincent Fryer, who obtained his BS degree from the University of Minnesota, gives his students a thorough understanding of Spanish and of the Latin American culture, which he has obtained from first hand experiences.

Director of the Mount Vernon High School band, of which the students of MVHS are justly proud, is Elvin Haley. Graduating with a BA in music from the University of Washington, he is also interested in hiking, mountain climbing, and color photography. The band, with its green uniforms, and smart manuevers, add color to many community events.

The new vocal music teacher this year is Dale Mattson, who got acquainted with MVHS students last year while doing his practice teaching here. Mr. Mattson, who has a BA degree in education from WWSC, is also interested in fishing, hunting, and skiing.

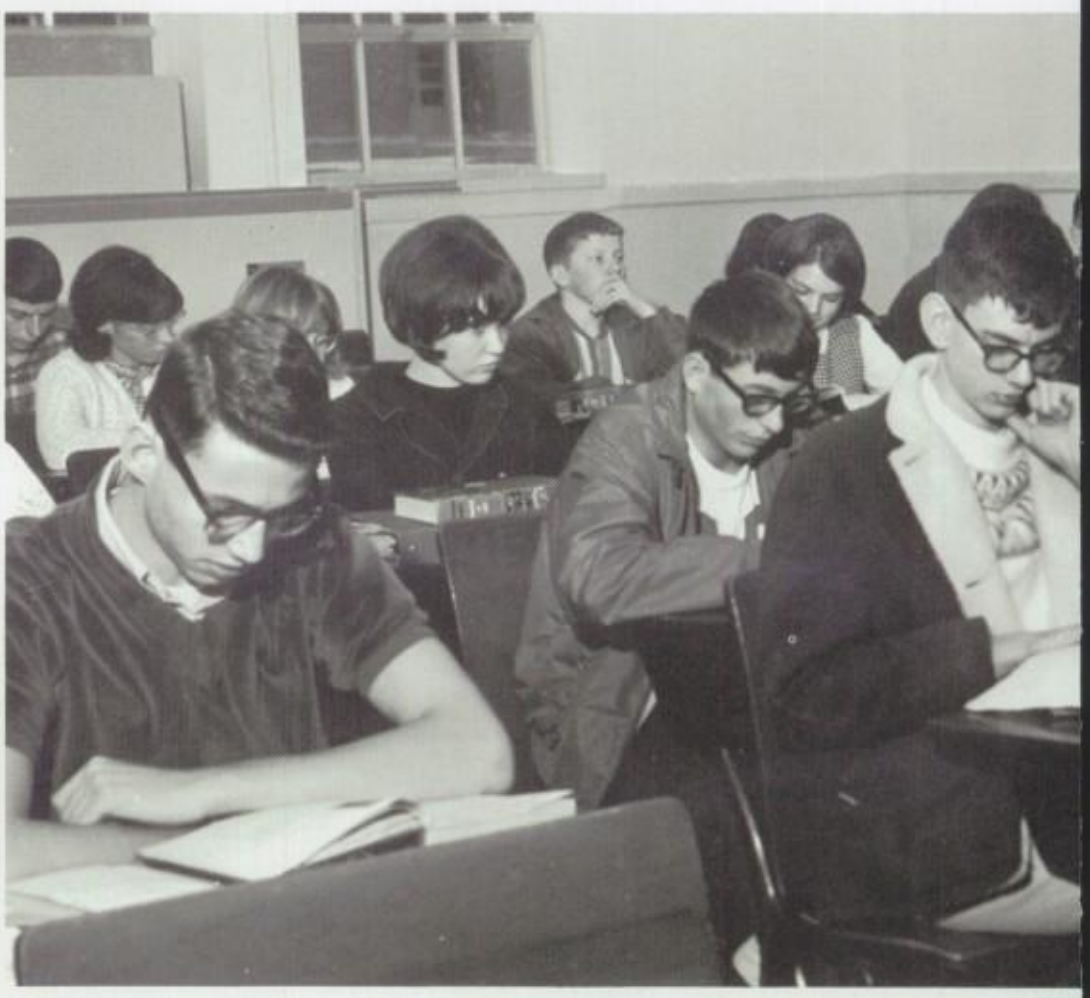
Language Arts Staff

With a BS degree in education from Kansas State Teacher's College and a Master of Librarianship from the UW, Mount Vernon High School is fortunate to have Mrs. Iva W. Derrick as its librarian and head of the rapidly growing Library Club.

Playing an important role in the library and audio-visual, book, and journalism departments, J. H. Jameson received his BS and MA from the University of Utah and an Archival Certificate from the University of Denver.



Comprehending a piece of literature is the task at hand in a junior English class, above.

Beginning her teaching career at MVHS, Mrs. Mary Allan has a BA degree from the UW. Joining the English and German departments, she enjoys conversation, music, reading, and learning French cookery.

Junior English teacher and advisor for the Thespians, Paul S. Barton graduated from EWSC with a BA degree in education. Another new member of the faculty, he enjoys photography and fishing.

With a BA degree in English from WWSC, a BS in PE and a MS in Administration of PE from WSU, James Beasley introduces freshmen to high school life as both English grammar teacher and head freshman football and basketball coach.

Advisor for the Skagina staff, Mrs. Marilyn Chicoratich teaches sophomore and senior English. She graduated from the University of Oregon with a BA degree in Journalism.

Water sports and golf keep Mrs. Kirby Johnson (Miss Pamela Dalan) busy when her time is not filled with her freshmen English classes. A graduate of WWSC, she joined the MVHS staff this year.

Mrs. Virginia Ellington, having graduated with a BA degree from WSU, teaches sophomore English. She also puts in many hours as Girls Club advisor, and enjoys skiing, sewing and reading for relaxation.

Encourages High Goals

Miss Donna Fowler, sophomore and junior English teacher, received her BA degree in Humanities Education from Oregon State University. Her first year at MVHS also finds Miss Fowler advising a new addition to our school activities, the debate team.

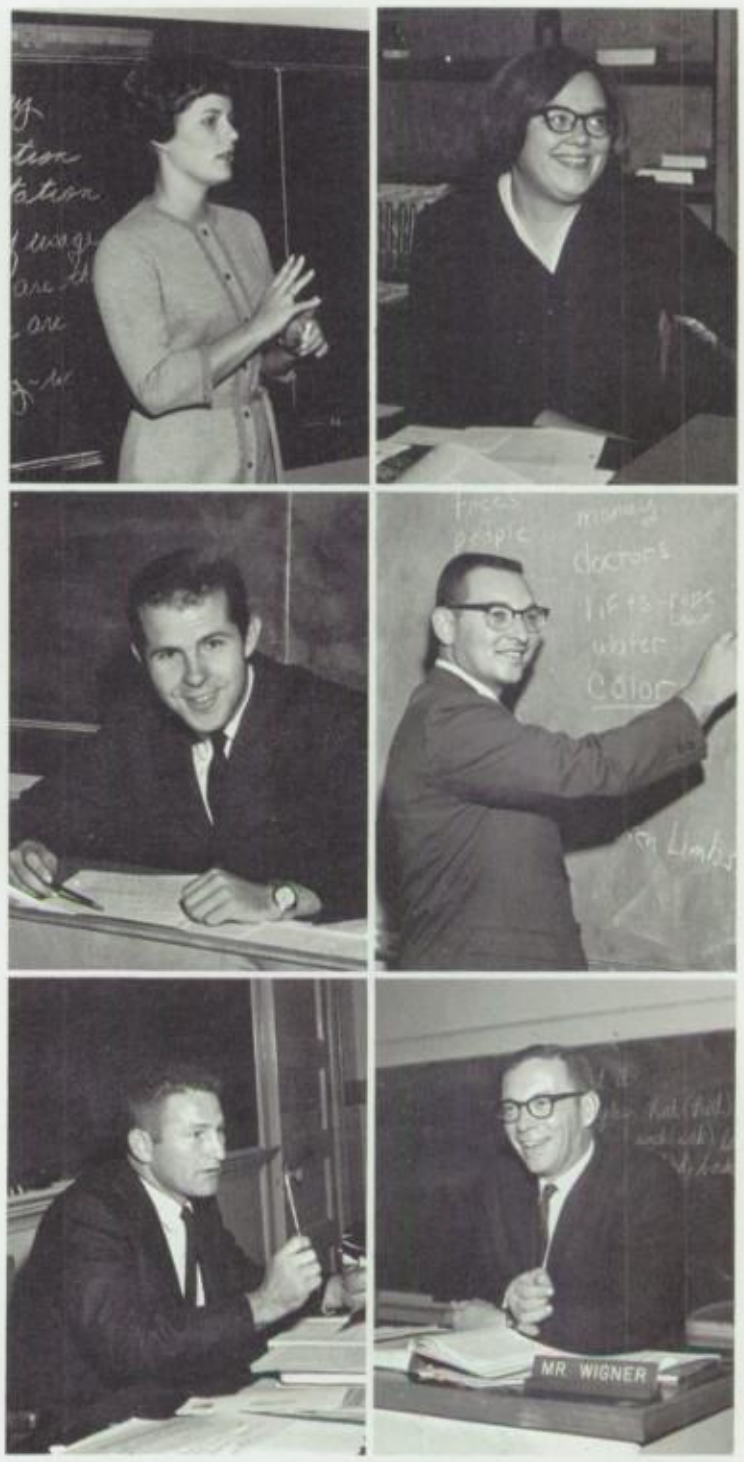
A most stimulating and delightful English teacher is the work-inspiring Miss Geraldine Hofer. Hailing from the University of Oregon, Miss Hofer is an avid reader and talker and even admits to a little constructive eavesdropping.

New to the MVHS faculty this year is James L. Johnson, a graduate of WWSC. Teaching senior English, college prep and review, his spare time is spent enjoying hiking, hunting, and reading. He also claims he is a frustrated farmer.

A skiing enthusiast, plus being interested in golf, music, and reading, William Tilley, with a BA in education from WWSC, is a special education and English teacher at MVHS, and assistant golf coach.

An alumnus of WWSC with a BA degree in education, A. W. Vivian not only teaches junior and business English, but also supports MVHS as assistant football and basketball coach.

Enjoying hobbies such as singing, dancing, writing, and radio and television experimentation during his leisure time, Wilbur Wigner, who gives freshmen their first course in high school English literature is a graduate of the UW with a BA degree.



Introducing freshmen to high school English is Mr. Wigner, below.

Vocational Courses

Perfection is the goal of all freshmen sewing students as the attention of Sandra Leckenby, above, indicates.

With her own personal interests in sewing and gardening, Mrs. Roda Inman is able to instruct her home economics students in the most friendly and helpful way possible. A member of Eastern Star, Mrs. Inman graduated from WSU and earned a BA in home economics and also a degree in education.

Enjoying forms of social recreation, such as folk and square dancing, Mrs. Leila Steckelberg likes teaching home economics as much as her students like attending her classes. Mrs. Steckelberg has a BS degree from the UW and the FHA benefits greatly from her guidance as advisor to their organization.

Teaching the sophomore boys' PE classes is the well-liked Perry Brown, who graduated from Monterey Peninsula College with an AA and from WSU with a BS in PE. After school Mr. Brown keeps busy as assistant football coach, head swimming coach and still finds time to do some hunting and fishing.

Enjoying nearly all types of physical activities aids Mrs. Marjorie Cleave in the teaching of her freshmen girls' PE classes. Mrs. Cleave earned her BA degree at the University of Portland and for leisure enjoys being a member of the Fort Vancouver Toastmistress Club.

Leading the sophomore girls' PE classes is the demanding yet always helpful Miss Kathleen Knowles. Educated at the UW and earning a BA degree, Miss Knowles directs GAA, gymnastics, and intramural tennis as well as taking advantage of varied outdoor activities, directing "Operation Waterbug", and leading the Skagit Valley Society for Handicapped Children and Adults.

A former MVHS student and track star, Darrell Pearson, attended WWSC. Upon returning to his alma mater, Mr. Pearson rapidly gained popularity in his new position as freshman PE teacher and assistant cross country, track and wrestling coach.

A very active person, George P. Mowrer supervises the selling of concessions at athletic contests and directs the Future Farmers of America as well as teaching his own agriculture and welding classes. With a BS degree in agricultural education from WSU, Mr. Mowrer ably teaches his students and still finds time to collect stamps and coins.

Hilding Nelson, a WSU graduate with a BS, not only teaches the practical vocational agriculture classes and directs the FFA, but also finds time to raise his own beef cattle.

Develop Necessary Skills

A music lover and amateur woodshop fan who also enjoys cooking, Les Copner, graduate of WSU, not only teaches typing, bookkeeping, business law, and economics, but also puts in many hours as ASB financial advisor for MVHS.

Ably and enthusiastically representing the bookkeeping and typing departments at Mount Vernon High School is the amiable Walter Kemmerer, who earned a BA from the UW.

Enjoying swimming, snow and water skiing, and cooking outside of class, Mrs. Margie Thomas, a graduate of WWSC, began her first year at Mount Vernon High School teaching the practical shorthand, advanced typing and transcription courses.

One of the popular classes on campus, woodshop, is taught by skillful and helpful Bruce Parker. Attending WSU where he first earned his BA degree in Industrial Arts, and just recently WWSC where he was awarded a MA in education, Mr. Parker also enjoys boating, fishing, hiking, and skiing.

Instructing the very applicable technical drawing classes is newcomer Kenneth Vanderhyde. Coming to us from WWSC, Mr. Vanderhyde has his own interests with skiing, golfing, and photography.

Efficiency Involves

Always ready to take time out from their many duties to help a student with a problem are Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Cunningham, and Mrs. Frazier, left, MVHS secretaries. It has also been said that the school couldn't run without Mrs. Holmes, who always seems to know the answer to any question pertaining to our high school.

Kept busy helping Mr. Phipps in his huge job of administering the public school systems of Mount Vernon and Conway are Mrs. VanValkenberg, Mrs. Ricketts, and Miss Anderson, left, his very capable secretaries.

This year, as in previous years, a large part of our bus driver crew, below, was made up of Skagit Valley College students who wished to earn extra money before and after school hours. Adhering strictly to the rules of the road, and always with great emphasis for the welfare of their passengers, the bus drivers help to make the student's trip to and from school a safe one.

Many

Faced with the tremendous job of providing lunches for Mount Vernon High School students and faculty, Mrs. Haley and Mrs. Poppe, below left, manage to produce both delicious and nourishing meals.

It has been said many times that MVHS has one of the most beautiful and well-maintained buildings and grounds of any high school in the state. This fact can be attributed for the most part to the fine janitorial staff of Mr. Anderson, Mr. Swartos, Mr. Fleck, below right, and Mr. Strong (not shown).

Concerned with the health of Mount Vernon High School students Mrs. Phyllis Pearson, school nurse, above left, also finds time to counsel girls interested in a similar profession in her capacity as advisor to the FNA.

Even though he is constantly on the job, most students take John Tonkin's, above right, vigorous activity for granted. In effect, he is an important cog in the daily activity of everyone at MVHS, for he serves as supervisor of the cafeteria and maintenance.

We're Proud of Our Many

Directing the Pep Band at a basketball game is Mr. Haley, right. Popcorn is used, below right, to cushion cookies made by students to send to our troops in Viet Nam for Christmas. Eating lunch doesn't stop these sophomore girls from discussing the events of the morning, below.

Gathering various materials for the annual Homecoming Bonfire is the job of the senior boys, above.

and Varied Activities

The jello being flung at Mr. Quall, Mr. Vivian and Mr. Slayer provided entertainment and money to be donated to orphan fund.

Ambitious, Talented Students Gai

Selected from Mount Vernon for All-State Band, Choir or Orchestra are, front row: Parker, Goedicke, Liggett. Back row: Eaton, Gibbons. Nowadnick, Raymond, Rood.

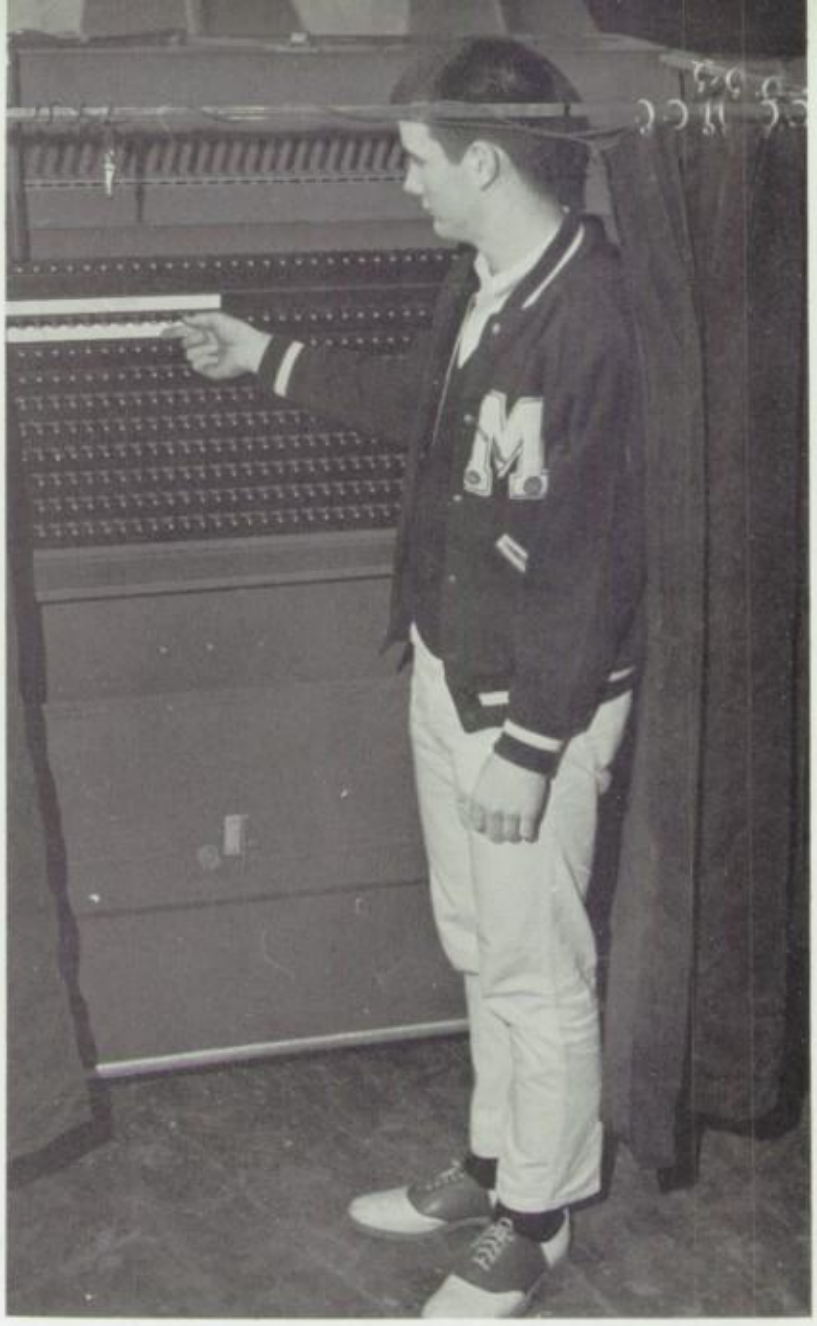
Receiving recognition for high scores in National Merit tests are: Lewis, Palmer, Montgomery, Svendsen, Machung, Penttila, Hartz.

Recognition

Selected for their superlative musical talents and show of initiative, eight students, shown opposite, were chosen to participate in All-State Choir, Band and Orchestra. Outstanding students from every area in the state took part in the annual event held this year at Spokane, and spent many hours practicing for the presentation of their combined concert.

Bringing credit to themselves and their school, seven seniors, John Lewis, Vicki Palmer, Carolyn Montgomery, Stein Svendsen, Karen Machung, Dan Penttila, and Steve Hartz showed outstanding ability in the completion of the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Receiving a Letter of Commendation indicates that these students placed among the top two percent of this year's participating secondary school seniors. Going a step further, Karen Machung became the only MVHS student to receive finalist recognition. The test was taken by more than 795,000 students in over 17,600 schools in the spring of 1965.

The purchase of six voting machines was chosen as the All-School project for 1965-66 and the fund drive, headed by Chairman Mark Johnson, went over its goal with no difficulty. These machines were purchased from Whatcom County at a cost of $100 each. The machines fold down for storage, and during elections can be raised up providing an enclosed area in which to vote. The votes are automatically recorded on the back of the machines enabling easier, faster, and more accurate elections.



Demonstrating the proper method of using the new voting machines is Mark Johnson, project chairman, above.

An attractive addition to the senior class this year was blonde, blue-eyed Barbara Goedicke, Mount Vernon's 1965-66 foreign exchange student. She is from Lower Saxony in Northern Germany.

Barbara made her home with the Don Eldridge family, which includes her American brothers and sisters, Ray, Jean, Sally and Jon.

Barbara was a member of student council, orchestra, campus choir, History Club, GAA and Tri-Hi-Y, and was as much at home on the ski slopes as she was in the halls at school.

"Life at MVHS—that meant lots of learning, busy and most exciting times during class, at lunch, in after-school activities, and during sporting events. Thinking back and remembering all these wonderful times, there are two things I felt I just HAVE to say: First, I am really proud that I have had the opportunity to call myself, for one year, a student at MVHS. The other is addressed to each and everyone of you. Many, many thanks for that wonderful year as one of you, for letting me share the big all-school events, for letting me share through testing times as well as times full of fun and excitement, and for showing me what you mean by "school spirit." I will never forget these ten months—or you—even if I get a hundred years old." —Barbara Goedicke.

German Student Brightens School

Barbara's host family for her American year, the Eldridges, below, are: Sally, Jean, Barb, Jon, Mrs. and Mr. Don Eldridge.

Service Clubs Aid Many

To conduct the annual Red Cross fund drive at MVHS, two students are elected from each class to make up the Red Cross Council. Representatives for this year were, above: Stewart Beasley, Dale Johnson, Christie Weckert, Judy Youngquist, Bob Svoboda, Barbara Wilcox and Candy Warren. Missing is Dick Hodgin.

Helping mentally retarded children learn to swim and working as candy stripers at the Skagit Valley Hospital are among the projects which help members of the Future Nurses of America learn about the medical profession. These girls all work for the coveted candy stripe uniforms, given to eight girls each year who are selected on the basis of their year in school and the number of years they have been FNA members. Highlights of the year were an open house at the U of W hospital and the annual picnic at the home of their advisor, Mrs. Edith Pearson. Officers were, below left, Gayle Bergquist, vice president; Roberta Smith, president; Chris Hughes, treasurer, Diane Walker, secretary.

Visiting Northern State Mental Hospital once a week this year were members of the Red Cross Club. Led by Secretary Karen Machung, Treasurer Candy Warren, President Janis Soma and advised by Mr. Dixon, this group undertook such projects as mending toys for needy children at Christmas. Several members also had the opportunity to spend time at the Red Cross Center at WWSC for a week the previous summer.

Dedicated

Seen often laboring in the ASB office are advisors Mr. Ringstad, left, director of student activities, and Mr. Copner, financial advisor. Both are indispensably helpful when problems concerning student affairs must be coped with by our ASB officers.

In order for any individual to be effective in government, he must either command respect or popularity, and then proceed to use them for the good of the whole. Frank Hoare possessed both these valuable qualities and had the ambition to take full advantage of them. Frank had the usual schedule for any student body president that kept him forever on the move, yet regardless of this work, Frank was still a person caring enough to be the friend of everyone and a person diligent enough to meet the expectations shown him by the student body at last year's election. He was truly a student body president that we are proud to say was "ours".

Living up to his promise of the "best homecoming ever", ASB Vice president Dale Zeretzke, made Homecoming "65" a memorable event for each student. He also was a great asset in solving the multiple problems as Frank's right-hand man.

A bundle of energy describes Kathy McIlraith, MVHS student body secretary. Always ready to assume extra work, besides her many duties as secretary, she brightened the ASB office with her cheery smile and gracious personality.

Happily assuming the responsibilities of a fulltime bookkeeper to keep the treasury of MVHS running smoothly, treasurer, Ralph Dalseg, spent countless hours before, during, and after school managing the vast funds which passed through his office.

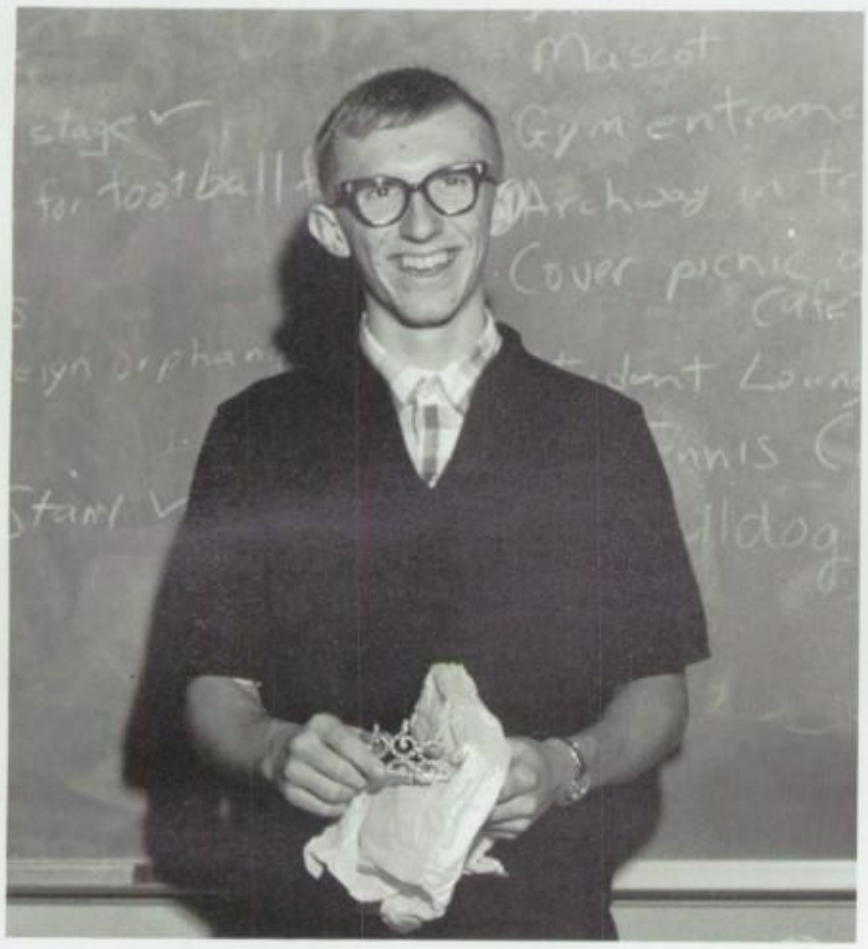
Assisting Ralph and learning the duties which he will assume next year, Rick Brynildsen, found the job of assistant treasurer to be a challenging but rewarding one.

Gaining a valuable insight into the workings of government as well as making many new friends, our Girls and Boys Staters were truly representative of the fine leaders from this year's senior class.

Attending Girls and Boys State were, below, Mary McIntosh, Ralph Dalseg, Frank Hoare, Dale Zeretzke, Marsha Tellesbo, and Nancy Bailey.

Keeping the minutes of student council meetings was one of many secretarial tasks performed by Kathy McIlraith, below.

ASB Officers Strive for a Great Year



Vice president and MVHS Homecoming week chairman was Dale Zeretzke, above. A never ending list of details confronted Frank Hoare, right, ASB president, every day of the year.

Keeping accurate files was a chore for Rick Brynildsen, below, right, assistant treasurer. Ralph Dalseg, below, treasurer, depended on an adding machine when keeping financial matters organized.

Much Time and Hard Work Lead to High

One of the more moving and gratifying ideas instigated by this year's student council was that of adopting an orphan child, an example of its fine intentions and accomplishments throughout the year. Composed of the finest leaders from every council class, it has made strides in enforcing rules, establishing effective committees, amending the constitution, and taking care of all other duties prescribed to it. As with other activities under Frank Hoare's apt leadership, student council has grown to become a meaningful and integral part of this year's school activities.

Achievements

Girls Club Has Busy and Productiv

Elected as MVHS Sweethearts to reign over the annual Sweetheart Dance this year were Mark Johnson, King, Barbara Goedicke, Queen, and Murray Cassidy, Prince and Kay Spink, Princess.

Helping distribute the food for the Thanksgiving basket are Linda Dunlap, Mike Buzzard, Mrs. Ellington, advisor, and Mike Shumway.

Year

Leading the Girls Club this year were: Cherie Locken, treasurer, Kathy Hanstad, secretary, Greta Koning, vice president and Linda Dunlap, president.

Enthusiastically led by Linda Dunlap, the Girls Club undertook a great many large projects during the year. Activities started with the Bogi-Hapa in October, which was closely followed by the Thanksgiving project when the girls collected $75.06, in addition to several boxes of canned goods. These were distributed among three families in the Skagit Valley who had a much happier Thanksgiving because of them.

The Club also sponsored two orphans, one through CARE and the other through the Chong Ang orphanage in Korea.

Reigning over the annual Sweetheart Dance were King Mark Johnson, Queen Barbara Goedicke, Prince Murray Cassidy and Princess Kay Spink. These were elected by contribution of money which was turned over to the March of Dimes. This year's theme was "Young at Heart."

During winter term were the March of Dimes games. Winners were the sophomores; awards for the best costumes went to the sophomores and the juniors won the Good Sportsmanship Award.

The year's activities were climaxed by the Mothers' Tea and the fashion show.

Heading the Girls Club Cabinet this year were: Shirley Kachold, Kathy Magee, Patricia VonMoos, Teresa Nurmi, Joyce Austin, Sharon Purcell, Diane Walker, Barbara Wilcox.

Students Spend Many Hours on School

Organizing for the next Bulldog edition are Mary McIntosh, editor, Joyce Johanson and Gail Iverson, business managers.

Behind every successful paper is an equally successful editor, and the Bulldog was no exception. Mary McIntosh put in a great many hours fulfilling her duty and, in a very similar way, so did a great many more people. Cognizant of the importance of a fine staff for the production of a good paper, Mary took advantage of the better journalism students to see to it that the paper was pleasing to its readers.

Publications

The responsibility of gathering together in one small book the many moments MVHS students will treasure in the future goes to the Skagina staff. Undertaking the important job of recording the memories of the 1965-66 school year were co-editors Nancy Bailey and Janis Soma, above. Often working far into the night they strove to meet deadlines and were assisted by an able staff of business managers, typists, copy, class, and sports editors, and advised by Mrs. Chicoratich. These energetic students planned, organized, and produced the 1966 Skagina.

Excitement Always

For the second year the senior boys' Hi-Y suffered a split in membership but still continued to be a successful and productive organization. The two groups, Barrett and Edlund, undertook many money making projects, contributing more than their share to the all-school project and to YMCA activities.

The girls of Hammack Tri-Hi-Y held a surprise breakfast for their male contemporaries. In retaliation the senior boys Hi-Y defeated the same girls group in their now famous basketball game. A Christmas party was also included in the years plans along with a number of other fund raising projects to keep the girls busy.

Present in Extracurricular Activities

With the handicap of being the first debate team to represent our school in four years, the debate members, under the direction of Miss Donna Fowler, exhibited fine skills in their preparation and presentation of Compulsory Arbitration in Labor-Management Disputes, this year's topic. Members were, right: Vicki Palmer, Janet Day, Sally Schroeder, Charlene Didier.

A fashion show, ski trips, and even night skiing at nearby Snoqualamie Pass were among the highlights of the newly reorganized MVHS Ski Club. This group, formerly one of the most active in school, was rebuilt with the help of avid skiers at MVHS, both beginner and advanced. Leading the club were, below: Lyle Foster, Stein Svendsen, Terry Stoupa, Nancy Bailey, Linda Parker.

Composed of the oldest girls in the Camp Fire organization, the four Horizon Clubs at MVHS spent much of their time working on community service programs.

Among the activities that keep the groups, the Hi-Fi, Hi Horizon, Chesk-Cha-May and Eldridge, busy are parties for needy children, Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets for the poor, working with patients at Northern State Hospital, aiding with the direction of the Bluebird groups and planning and giving parties for their mothers.

Elected from each group is one representative who attends an area Northwest Horizon Council meeting in April.

Leadership Cultivated

Interested in sports and athletics many girls join Girls Athletic Association to learn basketball, softball, bowling, rollerskating, track and swimming. Various days throughout the year are playdays that everyone can take part in, and sportsdays, when two girls are selected to join with girls from other schools in various sports. GAA also has an annual county track meet, and an awards banquet in the spring. A girl in GAA can earn a white letter sweater, complete with stripes and pins. GAA sold candy this year, and gave two scholarships to deserving senior girls graduating from its ranks. Officers for 1965-66 were: President Missy Leander, Vice president Carla Hayes, and Secretary-treasurer Marilyn Nulle. Members of the GAA council were, above left, front row: D. Bergquist, L. Students who are thinking of teaching careers gathered every other Monday in room 200 for meetings of Future Teachers of America—FTA. Revived last year, the club's main project was teacher aid at Madison School. The second semester this year, student teaching was taken as a class for credit, five hours a week, working with children in first through sixth grades, gaining as much experience as they could. This year FTA officers were, below: President Mary Colburn, Vice president Kathy Nass, Secretary Robin Miller, Treasurer Cheri Locken, Historian Jane Axelson, and Advisor William Tilley.

Baking cherry pies for Washington's birthday, and making cookies for rooters' buses were only two of many projects undertaken by the Future Homemakers of America this year. Contrary to many peoples' beliefs, the FHA did not only cook and sew, but they also had several speakers this year and a panel discussion on individualism. They were also honored to act as hostesses for Recognition Day in March which was attended by many FHA's. Leading the club this year were, below: Sue Holmes, Barbara Smith, Cheryl Lange, Sandy Youngquist and Anni Hayton.

by Participation in Various MVHS Clubs

Twice a month the members of Library Club met in the library to work at various special tasks they assigned themselves, to collect dues, or to discuss other projects they might undertake. The club had its second year at MVHS after being revived in 1964. The Library Club was largely responsible for the special decorations along the walls and on the tables in the library, and for unusual displays on the library bulletin board. The dues they collected went into a fund to provide needed special material for the library plus the purchase of a book donated to the school in their name. Officers of the club this year were, above: President Nobleese Jameson, Vice president Tom McClelland, Secretary-treasurer Kristine Kuhns.

Braving morning fog and dark, the approximately fifty members of History Club arrived at 6 AM many mornings to hear speakers who were long-time residents, from outlying colleges, and from LaConner Historical Society. Officers for 1965-66 were, above: Kent Whitsell, president, Jana Hoag, secretary, and Jean Eldridge, publicity.

Having splash parties, selling Christmas cards made by members, raffling off art, and having sketching parties were only a few of the activities of the newly-formed Beaux Arts Club. Led by officers, right: Cheryl Lange, president, Marsha Bullock, vice president, Gayle Bergquist, secretary-treasurer, Lilli Young, publicity and Anni Hayton, historian. They also enjoyed trips to museums and several guest speakers.

Striving to improve farming techniques, the Future Farmers of America met on the first Tuesday of each month to discuss their various projects. Awards were given for these projects at an annual spring awards banquet and the FFA also held a watermelon feed and a swimming party this year. Leading the club were, right: Dan Bjorling, Steve VanValkenburg, Otto Rouw, Jon DeVlieger, Victor Benson and Dale Johnson.

'Out of Frying Pan' Approved by Large

One of the few clubs that is, by its own definition, a "non-secret, non-social organization," Thespians is a national honor society for student dramatists. Its purpose is to forward dramatics and provide stage experience for many. Not every member need be an actor—the cause of drama is advanced by those who work on stage crew, publicity, property, costume, makeup, and lighting as well. Thespians, whose officers this year, above, were President Al Coslor, Secretary Janice Gibbons, and Vice president Mike Olszewski, sponsored dances and operated concession stands to earn money for their donation to the All-School Project, and for purchase of scripts.

"Out of the Frying Pan", this year's All-School Play, performed in the auditorium on Nov. 19 and 20, was funny, cheerful and, as performed by MVHS actors, very fast moving.

The play centers around six young actors and actresses who live in a walk-up New York apartment (which is landladied by a slightly bemused elderly woman named Mrs. Garnet). The actors, three boys and three girls, are looking for a producer—any producer—but preferably one, Arthur Kenny, whose hit, Mostly Murder, is running on Broadway. The actors want to go on the road in that show, and therefore practice it every night. Mr. Kenny is superstitious and believes that if he lives in the same apartment he lived in when he produced his hit, he'll have another. So he occupies the room beneath the actors. Things go along very well until the father of the youngest girl, who supplies all the rent money, turns up. Events develop rapidly from that point on: a romance flowers, two policemen materialize and then disappear, an insane laundryman wanders onstage, and a corpse walks. And, of course, everything comes out happily in the end.

The cast was: Dottie, Nellie Horton; Norman, Frank Hoare; Marge, Janice Gibbons; Tony, Gil Rodriguez; Kate, DeeAnn Youngquist; George, Peter Tippett; Muriel, Jenny Huffstetter; Mrs. Garnet, Edith Harris; Mr. Kenny, Randy McLeod; Mr. Colburn, Ed Marcus. Joe DeJonge was the stage manager. Mr. Paul Barton directed the play, assisted by Helen Farias, student director.

Pretending their friend George Bodell, played by Peter Tippett, is crazy is the only way Gil Rodriguez, and Frank Hoare, can think of to remove him gracefully from a sticky situation. Standing by his daughter Nellie Horton, Ed Marcus, looks angrily on the bazaar scene.

Another problem is produced when two policemen, Rob Beason and Al Coslor, pop in to investigage a scream. Mr. Kenny played by Randy McLeod, far right, protests the intrusion.

Crowds

Taking a final bow, the cast sees a fun experience end.

Promoting Pep, the Band is Enjoyed by

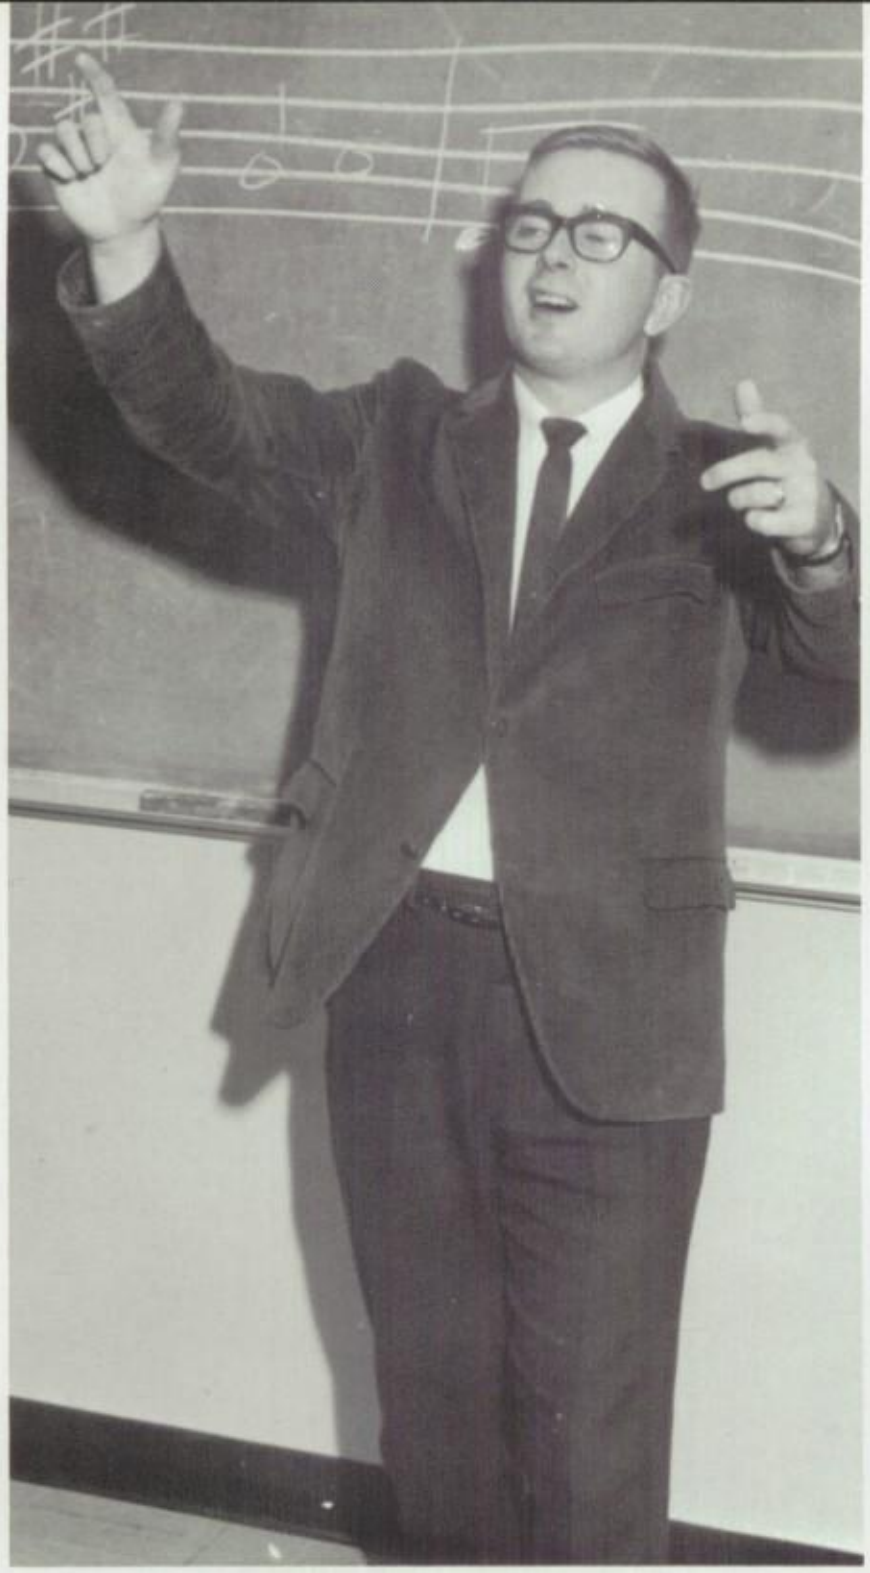
Spirited Choirs



The A Cappella Choir was under the direction of a new teacher this year, Mr. Dale Mattson. Trying out in the spring, only sophomores, juniors and seniors, were selected as members for this year. Continuing its traditionally excellent style, the choir performed throughout the community at concerts, banquets, and social functions. The choir selected as this year's officers, Dick Hodgin, president, Greta Koning, secretary, Sarah Deierlein, treasurer, Barbara Smith, social chairman, and Don Moe and Judy Eaton, custodians.

Bye-Bye Birdie And Orchestra Delight

Kathy Hanstad sings to her friends of how wonderful it is to be a woman.

In "Bye-Bye Birdie" Albert Peterson is a charming young music publisher who has one "hot" product at the moment—Conrad Birdie, a teenage recording star. Unfortunately Conrad has been drafted. To pay off his debts Albert needs one more hit song from Conrad. The idea for this song is supplied by Rose Alvarez, Albert's secretary, who picks from a catalog the name Kim MacAfee, President of the Conrad Birdie Fan Club in Sweet Apple, Ohio. She is to receive Conrad's "One Last Kiss"—a song which Albert then writes.

Albert, Rosie and Birdie ride the train to Sweet Apple and take up residence in the MacAfee household. Birdie's "One Last Kiss" is to be televised and seen on Ed Sullivan's show. Due to the hamming of Kim's father, who is appearing with the rest of his family and the action of Kim's suddenly belligerent boyfriend, Hugo Peabody, the sequence ends up a fiasco.

Conrad lights out on the town and is lured to the "Ice House" by Kim. Rosie, in the meantime, has also hit the town, declaring that she is Spanish Rose and she's going to live it up. Albert's calls for help finally reach Rose and she, Albert, Mr. and Mrs. MacAfee, two policemen, Hugo, and various other teenagers all wind up at the Ice House, and Conrad is arrested. Albert posts bail for Conrad, puts him on a train disguised as a little old lady, and sends him back to New York. He and Rosie catch a train to Pumpkin Falls, Iowa where Albert marries Rosie and becomes an English teacher at the Junior High School, fulfilling Rosie's and his dreams.

Mr. Charles Easton conducted an excellent orchestra this year, pictured below. The strings specialize in 15th and 16th century music, playing much Bach, Mozart, and Corelli. A large percentage of the group was present at the All-Northwest Festival, and three of the members represented them at the All-State convention in Spokane. The strings performed at several of their own concerts throughout the year, and also performed with the choir, band, grade school and Sedro-Woolley groups.

Victory, Victory That's Our Cry

The product of four years of devoted practice and play, this year's senior football team had progressed from a group of slightly small and inexperienced young freshmen to an aggressive group of ballplayers satisfied with nothing less than a win. And it was rarely that the team was dissatisfied with themselves for they lost only two ballgames throughout the entire season. But it was not only the seniors that made the Bulldogs as tough as they were. Without the help of the sophomores and juniors, the team could never have done as well as it did, placing second in the Northwest League. Proof of the fine individual performances was shown by the fact that six players were chosen for the all-northwest first team and six more were chosen for all-northwest honorable mention.

Bullpups Gain Building Blocks for Future

It was another winning season for Mount Vernon High School's freshman class football team, the Bullpups. Many of these young players will add considerable strength to the varsity team next season. Some of the boys whose ability will be counted on are: Dick Durham, Jay Kirby, Steve Pullin, Gerry Pruyn, and Bruce Hayton. This team was guided by Coach Jim Beasley, assisted by Al Evans.

Homecoming '65 Characterized by Pep

Active participants in the stunt and discrimination day provide an interesting atmosphere on campus.

MVHS student body began the exciting week which marked Homecoming 1965 with "Coronation in Wonderland", a beautiful ceremony introducing the royalty. Tuesday was Stunt and Discrimination Day and lettermen were honored on Wednesday. Thursday the entire student body donned black to mourn the losing Marysville team. The bonfire and serpentine Thursday night hosted a tremendous number of enthusiastic students. Then on Friday, October 29, the entire student body appeared in traditional green and white for the pep assembly, car and float parade, and, most important of all, the game. After the appearance of the court and Secretary of State Lud Kramer at half-time, the Bulldogs stomped the Tomahawks 26-6. The victory dance, "Rendezvous with the Stars" climaxed a memorable Homecoming Week.

Benefitting from the enthusiasm of an energetic and highly admired coach, this year's wrestling team enjoyed an extremely successful season, climaxing the hard work and effort of the entire team. Placing second in the Northwest League, second in sub-district, a tie for first in district, and fifth in state, this year's team had a number of exceptional wrestlers, both under and upperclassmen. Seniors Dick Hodgin, Jim Nakashima, Don Moe and junior Lee Anderson attended the state tournament in Ellensburg with each of the latter three taking third places. Proven grapplers Lee Anderson, Dale Johnson, and Gary Hoffman will assure future successes for MV wrestling teams.

f Unity MVHS Basketball Teams Excel

Facing the sun doesn't make these men look happy, but they really are! Our hardworking basketball coaches were, from left: Vivian, Quall, Beasley.

After losing 3 out of 4 of the first league games, the Bulldogs came back to defeat Arlington and began a winning streak. After senior Kent Whitsell returned, having recovered from pneumonia, the squad won 4 consecutive games to move upward in league standings and 6 wins out of the 8 remaining games gave the team second place in the Northwest league. In district play Mt. Vernon won 3 out of 5 games receiving third place in the District Tournament.

Coach Dave Quall will lose his starting five next year including Murray Cassidy, who led the team in total points scored, Mark Johnson, voted captain and Gentleman Athlete, Ed Werkhoven, top rebounder, Alan Williams, Inspirational Award winner, and Kent Whitsell.

Breaking records is a habit of Bob Svoboda, right. Senior Tex McClinton earned the titles Gentleman Athlete and Captain through continuous hard work, far right.

Gradually gaining momentum after a slow first half of the season, the swimming team worked diligently to finish second in the Northern Division Meet. An even better showing came about in the state meet where the team took sixth place. Junior, Bob Svoboda, who is already the holder of a number of school records, placed first in the 100 yard butterfly, Sophomore Chuck LaMay took a second in the 50 yard freestyle, and Seniors Ernie Olmsted and Tex McClinton placed sixth in the 200 yard freestyle and 8th in the 100 yard butterfly, respectively.

MVHS Track Squad Strains for

Striving to keep up Mount Vernon High School's tradition of county championship track teams, this year's squad devoted extra long hours and days of work in preparation for each meet. Under the capable direction of Coach Joe Murphy the team gained many points through the spectacular performances of many seniors. Lending strong support to the team also were many sophomores and juniors who are sure to give needed help to the team in the coming years.

Teams Compete Vigorously

Going into each match with a confident feeling, the Mount Vernon golf team, opposite page, finished regular season play with high hopes of a good showing in district play at Marysville as well as in the state match at Everett. Backed by promising sophomores, the team was made up, for the most part, of seniors with two years of varsity experience behind them. Calling on his own golfing skill, Coach Joe Day, aided by Mr. Tilley, provided helpful assistance in solving young players problems.

Losing almost his entire tennis team last year, Coach Ben Edlund was faced with the problem of rebuilding the MVHS tennis team. Able to rely on only a small number of seniors with playing experience, Coach Edlund filled several of the spots on his team with promising sophomores and juniors.

With understandable hesitation the class of '69 entered Mount Vernon High School this fall wondering just "what" was ahead of them. However, it wasn't long before they found their way around the rambling campus, got their first taste of MVHS traditions, and became an integral part of the school. Early in the fall they elected their leaders, Gary Pruyn, president; Steve Pullin, vice president, Kay Buzzard, secretary, and Kathy Magee, treasurer.

They found classes hard, home-work overwhelming, but still made time to take part in the school musical groups and athletic programs. Highlight of the year for the freshmen was a successful football season for their Bullpups.

Sophomores Show Great Initiative and

Sophomore class officers for this year were: Dale Johnson, president, Chuck LaMay, vice president, Christie Peterson, secretary, Sharon Purcell, treasurer.

Full of energy and willingness to work, the sophomores entered their second year of high school with enthusiasm. Taking part in school activities, the sophomores cheered teams on to victory, turned out for sports, made varsity squads, earned letter sweaters, decorated gyms for dances, worked hard on a Homecoming float, thoughtfully took part in elections, and supported the ASB candidates of their choice.

The sophomores elected president Dale Johnson, vice president Chuck LaMay, secretary Christie Peterson, and treasurer Sharon Purcell to lead them in this adventurous year. After having successfully completed their second year of high school, the class of '68 looks forward to their upper class years with anticipation.

Junior Clas

Busily preparing for the junior assembly are a few of the cast members.

Developing real leadership ability the juniors took their place as upperclassmen at Mount Vernon High. Class officers, left, Randy Elde, treasurer, Mike Howard, vice president, Jeryll Miller, secretary and Dave Linde, president, led the class through an activity-packed season.

In the spring the class members were busy preparing for their final year. They began to see the value of an education and showed a last appreciation for the seniors by decorating the gymnasium for commencement. The year ended with the moving-up assembly and the traditional cry of "one-two-three-four Seniors!"

the Juniors Become Seniors

Graduation Brings an End to Four

Senior officers for this year were, left, Jim Wilson, vice president, Al Coslor, president, Mary Colburn, treasurer, Linda Good, secretary.

With determined leadership from President Al Coslor and the ever present support from Vice President Jim Wilson, this year's senior class was one of the most productive in recent years. The class's paperwork was handled by Secretary Linda Good, and the funds were accounted for by efficient Mary Colburn.

Presenting the annual Senior Christmas assembly, the Class of '66 chose the play Christmas at Checkpoint Charlie. The story is of two GIs who risk their necks to reunite a German mother and her daughter separated by the Berlin Wall. The play takes place a few days before Christmas. Barbara Goedicke, our German exchange student, played the role of the mother, supported by Terry Raymond and Dale Zeretzke as the two soldiers. Adding an authentic touch, the Christmas carols by the Senior Choir were sung in German. Climaxing the assembly was a Christmas message delivered by Rev. McCann from the United Presbyterian Church.

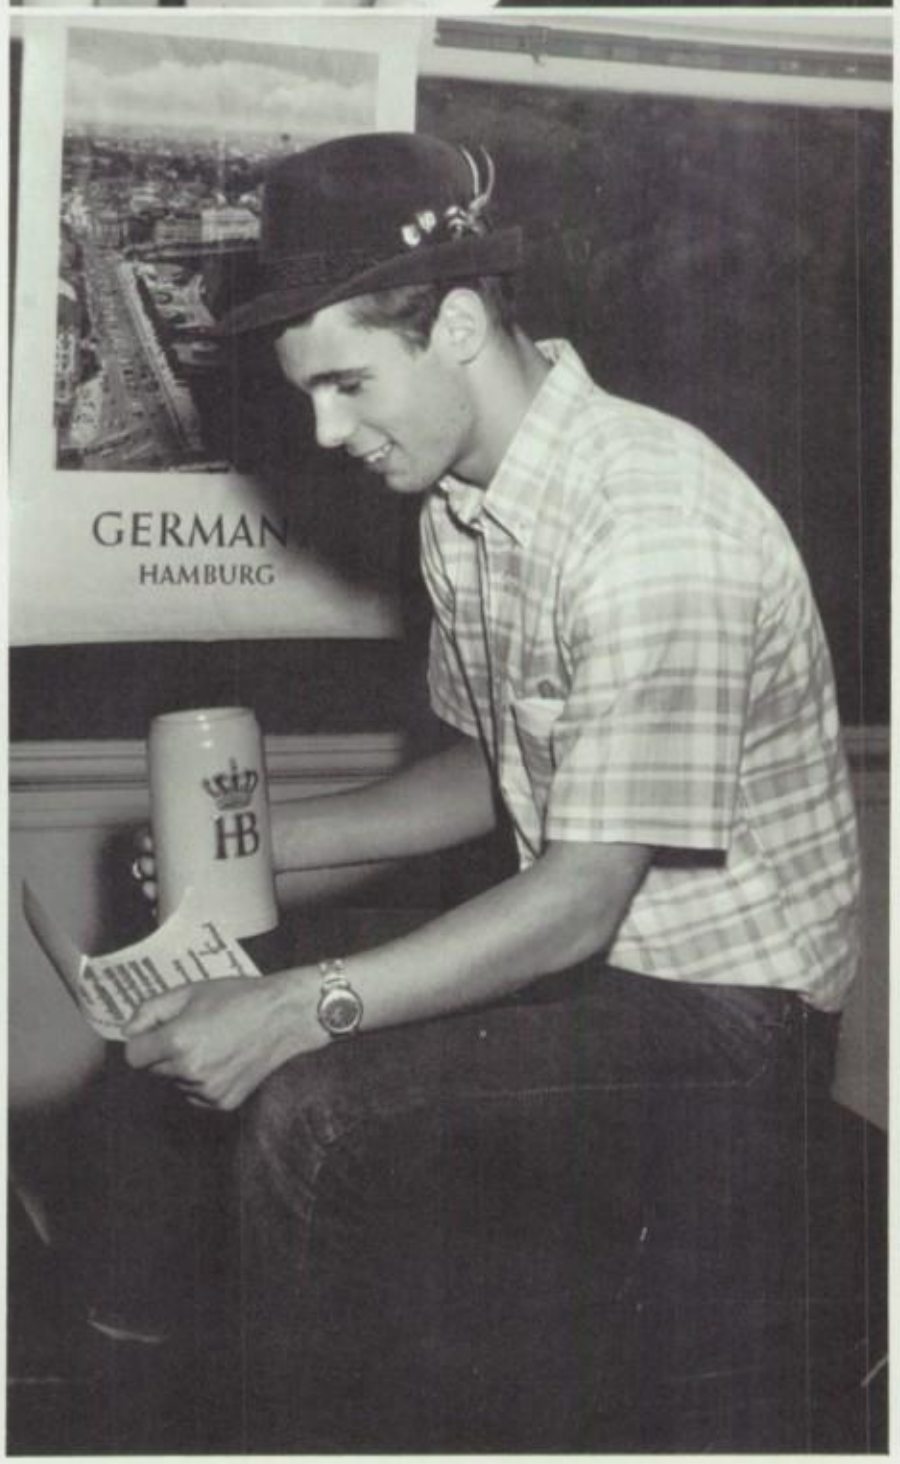
Successful Years

Chosen by their classmates to reign as MVHS royalty at the annual Senior Ball were Queen Cherie Locken and King Klint Conrad. Held at the Elk's Club on Nov. 24, the ball combined the effort of the senior students from Mount Vernon, Burlington-Edison, Sedro-Woolley, and LaConner. The theme "Stairway to the Stars" was carried out through the decorations which included wooden candle holders in the shape of stars on each table. Music was provided by Herb Benthien and his orchestra and Alan Coslor acted as master of ceremonies. Royalty was crowned by the senior class presidents from each school, the queens being presented with tiaras and the kings with pen and pencil sets.

Having the honor of being the first foreign exchange student from Mount Vernon High School chosen by the American Field Service for its summer program, senior Terry Stoupa spent seven weeks with a family in Kempton, Germany. Spreading American charm and good will, Terry enjoyed a summer of hiking, biking and sightseeing in the picturesque country.



Helping to make a brighter Christmas for those less fortunate were Mr. Murphy's and Mr. Edlund's senior history classes.

Academic Achievement Recognized

The hard work and ability necessary for the achievement of good grades are given worthy recognition in many ways, one being membership in the National Torch Society. Composed of students who have attained a cumulative grade point average of 3.2 during their high school years, Torch membership serves as a constant incentive for academic excellence and provides an all important emphasis for the learning process. A large percentage of those who qualify for Torch go on with their education, earn degrees, and eventually become the leaders of tomorrow.

Proudly we hail thee
Our Alma Mater;
Royal are thy colors
Green and the white;
Strong as a fortress,
Dear as true friendships.
We pledge our loyalty
Mount Vernon High.
